BITTERS
—THE BEST TONIC.
This medicine, combining iron with pure vegetable tonic, quickly and completely cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Weakness, Impure Blood, Malaria, Chills and Fevers, and Nervousness.
It is an unfailing remedy for Diseases of the Kidneys and Liver.
It is invaluable for Diseases peculiar to Women, and all who lead sedentary lives.
It does not irritate the stomach, cause headache or produce constipation—after long medicinal use, it soothes and purifies the blood, stimulates the appetite, aids the assimilation of food, relieves heartburn and belching, and strengthens the muscular and nervous system.
For Intermittent Fevers, Lassitude, Lack of

Wm. H. Vanderbilt has recovered judgment for $155,000 against Gen. U. S. Grant, of the late firm of Grant & Ward, New York.

The great New Orleans Exposition will be opened next Tuesday and will remain so six months. The roof of the main building alone covers 33 acres.

The South Carolina Legislature re-elected Wade Hampton to the United States Senate Tuesday, for six years from next March.

The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Walter Q. Gresham, of Indiana, to be United States Circuit Judge of the Seventh Judicial District.

Despite Gov. Cleveland's declaration that he had as yet given the matter of his Cabinet no thought, the gossip continues to assert that Thos. F. Bayard and Wm. C. Whitney have been decided upon as two of the seven members.

Fanny Elssler, the most famous dancer that ever lived, died a few days ago, aged 67 years. In her day it is said that she captured more hearts by her dancing than Cleopatra conquered by her beauty. She was a native of Vienna.

Ex-Senator Davis, of West Virginia, is another member of Cleveland's Cabinet that the veracious newspaper men have settled upon. They claim that the information has been received "straight" that he is to be Postmaster General.

It is said that President Arthur's reason for declining to enter the race for the New York Senatorship is a fear that Maine is waiting for a chance to knife him, in order to retaliate for the indifference shown by the President in the late death struggle of the Tattooed Knight.

Capt. Dudley and Mate Stephens, of the late steamer Mignonne, who were east in an open boat with the cabin boy, Parker, killed the latter and ate his flesh to keep themselves alive. They have just been tried at London and sentenced to death for the deed. The jury did not believe that self preservation is under all circumstances the first law of nature.

One of the first duties of the Democratic administration ought to be to regulate the pension department. The government is now paying out annually $68,000,000 in pensions. Thousands upon thousands of fraudulent claims are allowed and the honest investigation of these claims will save the Nation millions of dollars.

The young men of Dakota are organizing clubs and sending agents east to select marriageable young ladies who are willing to go out west and become the wives of cowboys. It is said that females are so scarce in the territory and the demand for wives is so great among the young men that Dakota girl immigrants before she can unpack her trunk.

Gen. Grant says he would not accept a pension, if it were tendered him. Then it would be the first thing he was ever known to refuse, from a bull-pup to a salary grab. The talk of pensioning Grant is nonsense. He has been well paid for every service he ever rendered the country and we are glad to see that he thinks so himself.

Dakota is vigorously knocking for admission at the door of the Union. The bill provides for the division of the territory, the northern half to be organized into a territory called "Lincoln" and the southern part to become a State. It would be strongly Republican and that is where the rub will be, as it would give the Republicans two Senators. The two parts would each have an area of about 75,000 square miles, as great as several of the eastern States combined.

The Louisville Post this morning correspondent gives this as Col. Oscar Turner's explanation of his defeat in the First District:

"You see they put up a one-legged fellow against me this time. He lost a leg in the Confederate service, and had a good deal of sympathy in our district. He didn't attack my record at all, or give me any chance to talk back, but just went around telling about his losing the leg on the battlefield, and his wife coming to him, wiping the death sweat from his face, staunching the blood and saving his life. Of course I couldn't reply to that sort of stuff, and the result was that he worked up a personal sympathy for that missing leg that beat me. They tried everything with two legs in the district against me in the last six years, and I beat them all; but when they got this one-legged man on the track I had to give up."

Another very potent reason for his defeat was that 10,503 Democrats in the district were fired of the "Old Outlaw."

T. J. Miller and J. M. Master-son, proprietors of "Coco Hollow" distillery, New Hope, have been arrested, charged with entering a bonded warehouse during the absence of the officer in charge, and taking whisky from barrels already gauged and putting it into barrels to be re-

THAT MOUNTAIN PLAGUE.

Dr. J. O. Carson, Who Was Sent Out by the State Board of Health, Gives the Result of His Investigation.

[To the Editor of the Courier-Journal.]

BOWLING GREEN, KY., Dec. 8.—Having finished the investigation of the epidemic in Eastern Kentucky, and since it was made for the State Board of Health and for the general good of the State, it is but right that some account of it should be given through your paper. In order to make my report as correct as possible, I not only went where the disease was the most prevalent, but visited the houses where it had been the most fatal, examined and tasted the water they had been using, and made inquiry as to their diet and sanitary surroundings. In addition to a good pocket-map of the State and bordering counties, I had access to some topographical and geological maps of that section, which were furnished me by Gen. W. W. Duffield, of Detroit. He is a West Pointer of 1842, and a United States Surveyor, and has been stationed there for a year, consequently his information was quite valuable to me.

That region is made up of the different ranges and spurs of the Cumberland mountains. The greatest elevation is that of the Big Black mountain, 2,500 feet. Between these ranges and along their mountain sides down the springs and creeks that form the headwaters of the Cumberland and Kentucky rivers. The source of the two rivers and the whole Upper valley of the Cumberland are of the carboniferous or coal bearing period, which refutes the idea of poisonous mineral springs, since this formation contains no mineral, except a small trace of carbureted iron and a little of sulphur.

Different minerals do exist on the other side of the Cumberland mountains in Tennessee and Virginia, but none in that portion of Kentucky. Last spring was very wet, and was followed by a long drought, which lasted from the first of June till almost the present time, which was so severe that most of the wells, springs and creeks were either dried up or ceased running, exposing to the action of the hot sun fresh vegetation on their margins as they became lower each day, and finally resulted in regular reservoirs of malarial poison. In some cases water was hauled and emptied in their wells and then used. In every instance, where the disease existed there was standing water about the premises, either in the wells, springs or bed of some sluggish stream, and frequently furnished their only drinking water.

The houses are log and very open and somewhat crowded, and are built low down to the valley, and the heavy mountain fogs laden with this malarial atmosphere found free access. They raise very little but corn and some stock; their bread is generally made of corn-meal, coarsely ground on little water-mills or by hand-mills, similar to the one sent by Harlan county to the last Exposition, and sometimes grinded by hand (not a very wholesome diet for sick people). They are naturally prejudiced against doctors, and rarely send for one till it is too late, and then give him credit for losing a patient. The disease was epidemic—dysentery, caused by malarial poison. Some cases began with a decided chill, and were nearly always complicated with malarial fever, and were aggravated by overcrowding, improper food, want of medical attention and the necessary conveniences for the care of the sick. The number of deaths by counties were: Harlan, 15; Knox, 20; Bell, 25; Leslie, 30; Letcher, 30; Whiteley, 30, or even more, and still you don't have 200; and sure it would not exceed 225. Now, I am aware that these figures are smaller than any yet given, but I want to get the truth and am satisfied they are as correct as can be given, except by exact census. They are large enough when you look at the fact that the counties are large and thinly settled.

At Pineville I met Dr. J. B. Hubbell, of Washington, the General Field Agent of the Red Cross Association. We had both finished our investigations and carefully canvassed the statistics of each county and found them almost exactly alike. He also gave me the statistics he had collected in Virginia, West Virginia and Tennessee. He placed the deaths in those States at from 250 to 300, and was sure the whole number of deaths in all the States would not exceed 500. I met nearly every doctor in those counties and found them sensible, practicable men. All agreed that the origin of the epidemic was malarial and were satisfied that it was not contagious. Dr. Hubbell was inclined to believe that dysentery was due to a special poison added to and propagated by malaria. I learned that about 1865 or 1866 the same section was visited by a similar disease.

In that country alone you will find the primitive Kentuckian of 60 or 70 years ago. In many houses you will find the spinning-wheel and loom. The people are very honest and generous, and strangers are always welcome to what they have. They feel deeply aggrieved about the exaggerated reports of the disease; that their stock died, or ever suffered for food or water; that they were hard pressed for food or had neglected the sick or left the dead unburied. They want immigration to that portion of the State, and say they have more land than is under cultivation. I made inquiry as to the disposal of the dead, and could not hear of a single case where they had not been promptly and decently buried. While the crops were not abundant this year, they have plenty to live on and keep their stock till harvest again. I consider that portion of the State very fine for stock-raising; the valleys are sufficient to raise corn to keep the stock through the winter, and the hill-sides afford excellent grazing for cattle, sheep and hogs.

Mr. Dock Long, who lives about two miles from Richmond, was killed last week, and his wife was superintending the rendering of the lard. Their only child, a little girl about six years of age, came in the way, when the mother, being slightly irritated, struck it a light blow on the head with a switch, or a small stick, and to her horror the child fell into convulsions and died in a short while.

Rev. Wm. Rutherford, pastor of the Christian church in Salem, Ky., while they were walking home together traded overcoats with John Tyler. The latter had placed in a pocket of the coat, as alleged, $7000 in cash and securities. Shortly afterward Rutherford returned with "boot-money" as agreed, but the trade was declared off. The coats were re-exchanged, but the $7000 and securities were gone. Rutherford is arrested, but maintains his innocence.

The Washington Monument.

The capstone was placed on the Washington Monument Saturday Dec. 6, and the tallest artificial structure in the world is now complete. It was begun in the summer of 1848 and has been over 36 years in process of construction. It is 45 feet higher than any building ever erected by human hands, as shown by the following comparative list of the highest structures in the world:

1. The Washington monument, 555 feet.
2. Cologne cathedral, 510 feet.
3. The great pyramid of Cheops, 460 feet.
4. St. Peter's, Rome, 448 feet.
5. St. Paul's, London, 360.
6. St. Mark's, Venice, 323 feet.
7. The Capitol, Washington, 283 feet.
8. Brooklyn bridge tower, 276 feet.
9. Trinity church, New York, 263 feet.

This magnificent monument which is designed to perpetuate the memory of our greatest hero and statesman, stands on the bank of the Potomac, not far from the White House, in Washington city. It will be formally dedicated on the 22nd of next February. As stated above it is 555 feet high and is 55 feet broad at its base. It is a hollow shaft of granite, faced on the outside with blocks of white marble. Every possible device has been used to make it impervious to the action of frost. The top will be capped with a pyramid of white marble, surmounted by a solid copper apex to be connected with a lightning rod, which will prevent its being destroyed by lightning. The interior will be lighted by electricity and will contain a winding stairway and also an elevator to reach the summit.

No Long Words.

There is no call to use long words in speaking of Parker's Tonic. It sells on its merits and cures by its virtues. No family can make a mistake in keeping a bottle in the house. For coughs, colds and all troubles of the bowels, stomach, liver and kidneys, it is exactly what you want. For yourself, your wife and children.

OUR GREATLY INCREASING TRADE!

Compels us in the middle of the busy season to not only increase our force of salesmen, but to enlarge our sales-rooms. By extensive improvements we have now more room for each of our separate departments, viz.: MEN'S CLOTHING, BOYS' CLOTHING, HABERDASHERY and TAILORING. Ours is now the best equipped house in the Southwest. No better evidence is wanted that the people are patronizing us liberally. Other houses are curtailing their force and reducing stock, while we are positively driven to improvement. We have just placed in stock 15 cases MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING, goods bought at a tremendous sacrifice, and which enables us to offer unusual inducements the coming few weeks. Honest goods at the lowest prices, together with proper treatment tell the tale. The workmen now make our house head quarters.

OUR PRESENTS

Still go with cash purchases of $12 or over in any one department, viz.: Watch and Chain, Alarm Clock, or Load of Best Lump Coal.

When a donkey was introduced on a stage at the Casino the other day and designated as "Bureliard" by the low comedian, the son of Doctor B. expressed indignation and compelled the ribald jester to respect the eminent divine's gray hair. But in the same comic opera "a damned mountain goat" was introduced and addressed as "Ben Butler." Nobody interposed to protect either Butler or the goat from this ridicule. Butler has no sensitive son, and he doubtless considers it a compliment to have his name associated with so wild and so fragrant an animal as Capri-cornus.—New York World.

MARRIED.

The marriage of Judge Jas. B. Campbell, of California to Miss Kitty Bell, of this city, occurred Wednesday at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. John H. Bell, on Russellville street. The marriage was a great surprise to all excepting a few persons who had got an inkling of the real object of the eminent California jurist, in visiting this county, his old home. Twenty-four years ago, when a very young man, he left Kentucky to seek his fortune in the far West. He has been remarkably successful and wealth and honors have been laid at his feet by the people of his adopted State. He is now serving his second term, of six years, upon the Circuit Court bench, having been recently re-elected by an overwhelming majority over his Republican opponent. The marriage which occurred Wednesday is not without a thread of romance. When Judge Campbell had succeeded in attaining wealth and distinction, he conceived the idea of returning to Kentucky for a second wife, his first having died many years ago. A correspondence was begun with Miss Bell, who was a small child when he left, but just how he managed to bring this about we do not know. At any rate the correspondence was not a fruitless one and a few weeks ago the ex-Kentuckian returned after twenty-four years absence to claim his bride. The ceremony was pronounced by Eld. McChesney, of Trenton, Ky., at 11:30 A. M. in the presence of a few friends and relatives of the contracting parties. Soon after the marriage the newly wedded couple left for the depot and took the noon train for Fresno City, California. A number of friends were at the depot to bid them adieu. Judge Campbell is a nephew of Mr. Ben S. Campbell, of this county, and has many friends here who knew him in ante-bellum days. His bride is a most estimable and attractive lady and we congratulate him upon his good fortune.

May they realize their fondest hopes of happiness, is our sincere wish.

Ford's Opera Co.

The music loving people of Hopkinsville have in store for them an unusual treat in the advent of the Ford English Opera Company with Zola Seguin as the star, and a most excellent company of well known people. This is by far the best company Mr. Ford has ever had, and we can assure our citizens of a, least performance. The Opera selected is "The Orange Girl" by Planquette, the author of the "Cluques of Normandy," which has had such a phenomenal run at the Bijou Theatre in New York. The Charleston News Courier says of this performance: "The Ford Opera Company achieved a genuine success last night in the presentation of Planquette's new opera, 'The Orange Girl.' The audience was large and discriminating, and their plaudits, which were lavishly bestowed, is the best testimony that could be offered of the excellence of the work of the company. Everybody sang unusually well, and in the title role Mrs. Seguin found the first opportunity she has had since her engagement here of displaying her lyric and dramatic talent. It is admirably mounted, handsomely costumed, and has evidently been carefully and conscientiously rehearsed."

The company carry their own orchestra. Reserved seats at Holland & Rodgers, on the morning of the 16th.

Mr. W. W. Garrett, will have a sale at his brick house place, near Edwards' mill on Saturday the 20th. He will sell farming implements, household effects, etc., and some valuable live stock.

Dr. J. R. Armistead's drug store is having the old-style front taken out and replaced by a handsome modern one with large show windows. The change will improve the appearance of the store very much.

Mr. J. D. Ware has bought a building lot from Dr. A. P. Campbell, on Virginia street, opposite Mr. A. G. Bush's. The lot has a frontage of 77 feet. The price paid was $700. Mr. Ware will build a residence on it in the spring.

Mrs. Bryan, instructor in the art of making Macramé lace, has opened rooms at Mrs. Martin's old stand, for the purpose of teaching it to ladies. It is made on a lapdesk, entirely with the fingers and is very easy to learn. It is all the rage. Tuition reasonable.

The Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph Co. will shortly open an office in this city in opposition to the Western Union. The office will be located on the corner of Main and Nashville streets. We will be able to give fuller particulars next week.

The following were inadvertently omitted from the list of bridal presents in the account of the Grinberg-Fry wedding. In our last issue: Silver cup, Miss Sara Shyer, Clarksville; silver butter-dish, J. L. Meyer, Hopkinsville.

The Jewish young gentlemen of the city gave a dance at Howe's hall, Monday evening in honor of Misses Sara C. Green, of Nashville, and Sara Shyer, of Clarksville. The affair was a decided success and was highly enjoyed by all who were present.

Mr. Jno. W. Payne declines to allow the use of his name as a candidate for re-election as City Attorney, to-morrow. There are no candidates for the office so far announced. The position is filled by election annually and the compensation is about $200. Does nobody want it?

Two bridal couples left this city on the same train Wednesday. One was bound for the Atlantic and the other for the Pacific coast. Thus it will be seen that wife-seekers come from the remotest confines of the Nation to marry Hopkinsville girls.

A communication from Mr. C. M. Brown occupies most of our first page again this week. We trust our readers will bear with us as it is not often that this wholesale advertising demand is made upon our columns. The list will be given two more insertions—Fridays only.

The young ladies are arranging to make their leap year ball a grand affair. They will have a magnificent supper in conjunction with the dance, having secured Mr. W. J. Withers new building for the purpose. The young men are already beginning to feel a nervous anxiety over the possibility of the failure to make engagements.

The Christian Conolly Medical Society will meet next Monday at 11 o'clock, A. M., in Dr. Fairleigh's office, over the Planter's Bank. The last meeting encourages the hope of a large attendance. The experience of the essayist, Dr. R. W. Gaines, will doubtless inspire many to come.

In another column we publish the dissolution notice of the firm of Winfree & Co. Mr. R. B. Withers becomes the head of the firm and the business will hereafter be conducted by Withers & Co. Mr. Withers is a careful and clever business man, a courteous and popular gentleman, and will maintain the high-standing and popularity of the late firm of which he was a member. Mess. Withers & Co. will occupy one of the store rooms in the Withers building on Main street next year.

The George Woodthorpe Dramatic Co., played Tuesday evening to a small house. The play was a good one and the company pretty fair, but they were in a financial straight, owing to the absconding of their treasurer a few days before with the funds. An attempt was made to repeat the performance Wednesday evening, but the inclement weather prevented it and the curtain did not rise, the attendance was so small. The company will be in Nashville next week and expects to get on its feet again.

Arrangements have been perfected to move the post-office from Bridge street. This news will be hailed with joy by everybody who receives mail at this office. The room to be occupied is the large and commodious one formerly occupied by the Planter's Bank, just north of the Court-house. It will be fitted up in good style and as soon as the Court of Claims can meet and authorize a change in the building (it is the property of the county) one of the front windows will be made into a door and an arrangement will be made by which lock-boxes will be separated from the general delivery and be kept open at all times, so that those renting them can get their mail day or night. The office will be moved probably next week or as soon as the room can be gotten ready. There is a paved square in front of the building, and also a vestibule that will allow plenty of room for those waiting for the mails to be opened to stand without blocking up the street, as is the case in the present quarters. The location is much better and we take great pleasure in announcing the change.

The annual city election will occur to-morrow. The Board of Councilmen composed of Messrs. R. T. Petree, G. O. Thompson, W. M. Hill, F. J. Brownell, Wm. Ellis, J. M. Starling and E. B. Long, will be elected without organized opposition. By mutual consent of the two parties the Board will be composed of three Democrats and four Republicans. As we have before stated the ticket is objectionable in not being a thoroughly representative Board from every part of the city. However, when it is taken into consideration that probably less than fifty men in the city are eligible, the Board is about as good as any that could be selected. Five of the members are new men.

On last Wednesday evening, the tenth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Withers, (nee Miss Bettie Warr), they were given a serenade by the Hopkinsville Cornet Band, at their residence on South Main street. Several very nice selections were played and Mr. Withers appeared and thanked the gentlemen for the compliment paid him, in a very handsome manner.

The pavement on Bridge street is at present blocked up by material for rebuilding the house burned a few days since. Those going to the post-office are obliged to take the mud and slush in the street and this state of affairs is likely to continue until the office is removed, which will, it is hoped, be in a very few days.

Theatre Tickets.

From this date on reserved seats for performances at the Opera House will be sold at the Confectionery of Holland & Rodgers, directly opposite the theatre. Mr. Rodgers giving the sale his personal attention. The sale of seats for all entertainments will open at 9 o'clock on the morning before the day of the performance.

Mr. F. B. Sugg, of the popular cigar house of R. N. Ewell & Co., Louisville, was in the city this week.

TOBACCO SALES.

We are glad to announce to the public that the late troubles which existed in the Tobacco Board of Trade have been amicably adjusted, and all adhere to the old rules and custom of a Board of Trade Bonded inspection. This inspection gives perfect satisfaction to every buyer on the market, and insures the freest and most liberal bidding. The inspector stands between the buyer and seller while the warehouseman with vigilant eye examines every hoghead in connection with the inspection and protects his patron's interest.

Mess. Smithson and Nelson, of Christian county, and P. G. Jones, of Trigg county, are the present inspectors, who for decision of character and spotless integrity are unsurpassed in their respective communities. The false packer will doubtless be dissatisfied and some may seek other markets with the hope of evading a fair inspection, but the farmer who sells his tobacco as he does his wheat, corn, hay, potatoes and other productions of his farm by assuring and grading, selling each kind and quality according to merit has all to gain. The buyer only wants a fair sample of what he buys and just in proportion as he has confidence will be his bidding. II.

Sales by Gant & Galtner, Dec. 10, 1884, of 6 Hhds. of new tobacco: 4 Hhds. of medium leaf, $8 00, 8 30, 8 25, 2 Hhds. common leaf, $7 75, 7 00. Market was fully 25 cts. lower than last week. Next sale Dec. 17, 1884.

John B. Alden's Literary Revolution, though, possibly not making so large a "noise" in the world as three or four years ago when its remarkable work was new to the public, is really making more substantial progress than ever before. A noticeable item is the improved quality of the books issued. Guizot's famous "History of France," not sold, till recently, for much less than $50.00 is put forth in eight small octavo volumes, ranking with the handsomest ever issued from American printing presses, including the 426 full page original illustrations, and is sold for $7.00. Rawlinson's celebrated "Seven Great Monarchies of the Ancient Eastern World" is produced in elegant form, with all the maps and illustrations, reduced in price from $18.00 to $2.75. These are but representative of an immense list of standard works, ranking in price from two cents to nearly $20.00, which are set forth in a descriptive catalogue of 100 pages, and which is sent free to every applicant. It certainly is worth the cost of a postal card to the publisher, John B. Alden, 393 Pearl Street New York.

Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly

The December number, closing the eighteenth volume, fully maintains the meritorious character of this favorite magazine, and will doubtless secure a large subscription for the next volumes. The publication is remarkable for its comprehensiveness and cheapness. Among the prominent illustrated articles are "The Dramatists of To-day," "A Ramble Through the Island of Jersey," "Forms of Salvation," "The Great Elector of Brandenburg," "The Great Schools of Merrie England," etc., etc., written by popular authors. The interesting serial, "The Death-Mark," is continued, and there are several short stories, sketches, adventures and poems, furnishing very pleasant reading. There are also an abundance of brief articles, paragraphs, anecdotes, etc.—indeed the 128 quarto pages present literature of high order, and the embellishments number over 100 besides a handsome colored-plate frontispiece, "Flirtation." The price is only 25 cents a number, or $2.50 yearly, postpaid. Mrs. FRANK LESLIE, 53, 55, and 57 Park Place, New York.

A unique, handsome, and delightfully readable little Monthly Magazine, containing for the year over 300 pages and many fine pictures, all for 25 cents a year, is a recent characteristic product of The Literary Revolution. Each number contains attractive selections from some noted book,—the last presents Prescott's famous chapter on the "Spanish Inquisition." What will interest a number of book-buyers will be the regular monthly news of the Revolution's progress,—an enterprise that has wrought wonders in the book world. A specimen copy of The Book Worm will be sent free to any address. John B. Alden, Publisher, 393 Pearl Street, New York.

The Messenger complains that young men by loud talking and profanity render themselves very obnoxious to the audiences at theatrical entertainments. Why don't the police put the ruffians out?

I finally tried Pomroy's chili cure and from the first dose of it until this time I have not had a chill. I am now in the health and entirely cured of the chills. tion as to whether Cleveland's victory was due to the independents or the Prohibitionists, the stalwarts of Dr. Burchard. The question is now, however, settled beyond any doubt: it was a black cat that secured the triumph of the Cleveland ticket.

About the beginning of the campaign a strange black cat walked into the National Democratic Headquarters in this city. She was apparently a public cat, without any lawful owner, and her arrival was hailed with immense enthusiasm. Cleveland's

Our Latest Distinguished Visitor.

Rev. Mother Mary Frances Clare.
THE NUN OF KENMARE.

The people of the United States cordially welcome to their shores the Rev. Mother Mary Frances Clare, who comes on a philanthropic mission. Her name has been known in their land as that of a woman who devotes her life to doing good. She comes among a people who appreciate the efforts of Christian charity.

Miss Cusack entered the religious life twenty-five years ago. She has become distinguished during the time spent in literature and philanthropy, and zeal in religion. As to the first of these, the Propaganda has recognized the worth of her books, which are read widely by Catholics in this country. It is stated that the only one of her numerous productions which has been pirated is the "Life of St. Francis." For all the rest she has been properly compensated by American publishers. Her philanthropy does infinite credit to her heart in her principles. She lived in the convent of Kenmare twenty years, during which disaster not infrequently overtook the poor people around her. On these sad occasions she spent her days and nights in the relief of physical and mental suffering. Her eminence in the religious life and her active sympathetic charity were recognized in the private interview granted her by Leo XIII. the only one ever granted by a Pope to a female. Mother Clare now resides in England.

Her business in this country is to collect means to assist her in the establishment of training schools for girls in England and Ireland. As she has been successful in beginning and maintaining schools for the poor, her efforts in the direction indicate will almost certainly prosper. Her aim is to teach girls domestic arts, as sewing and so forth, cooking and domestic work, and to those who have an aptitude for such pursuits, setting type, telegraphy, nursing, and teaching, in connection with the principles of the Catholic faith and the ordinary branches of school instruction. Since landing the Nun of Kenmare met with an accident. She fell upon entering a church in New York, and was immediately driven back to her hotel.

She comes to the Catholics of this country more as a friend than as a stranger. Her books and the knowledge of her good works have preceded her. Indeed so great is her reputation in the United States that she has been left legacies of considerable value by certain of its citizens.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE for 1885. The Living Age will soon enter its forty-first year of successful publication. As it is the only satisfactory complete and fresh compilation of an indispensable current literature, a literature which grows richer and more abundant every year in the work of the ablest writers of the time, it is invaluable to the American reader. Supplying the place of many reviews, magazines and papers, it enables him at small expense, considering the quantity and quality of the reading furnished, to keep pace with the best thought and well abreast of the best literature of the day. The prospectus of this magazine for 1885, is worthy the attention of all who are selecting their reading matter for the new year. Reduced clubbing rates with other periodicals are given, and to new subscribers remitting now for the year 1885 the intervening numbers are sent gratis. Littell & Co., Boston, are the publishers.

Servants of the Stomach.

The new Governor General of Canada brought with him thirty-nine servants. That seems a good many. But every stomach has more servants than that. Lungs, liver, heart, arteries, veins, esophagus, kidneys and all the rest of the party must be kept in prime order if first-class service is expected. Brown's Iron Bitters is the great regulator for all these. It quiets them when in rebellion, and sets them to their work when they are lazy.

SUPPOSED TO BE FUNNY.

The dentist didn't do a small business. He takes his contracts by the acre.—Litchfield Sunbeam.

If you want to get a Republican office-holder red hot, take a two foot rule, and go to measuring a whisky barrel.—Youman.

Political parades are pretty much over. The Republicans are yet to have a turn out—on the 4th of March next.—Old Guard.

An exchange remarks that "hussling bees are in order." If the question be not impertinent, we would respectfully inquire the best method of hussling a bee with safety.—Sunday Argus.

"You want to aim very low when you are hunting the bison," said the hunter. "How low?" asked the trader. "Buffalo," replied the old hunter, without a struggle.—Hawkeye.

Blaine will now turn his attention to his "Twenty Years in Congress." He might give an additional impetus to his book sale by going a little farther back and put in "A Few Years in Kentucky."—Frankfort Capital.

Shot silks are very fashionable. The garment should be hung over the back fence and peppered with about four charges of BB shot. Anything smaller is liable to produce the same effect as moth holes.—Burlington Free Press.

Ha, ha!—Supposing now a druggist was to mislay his watch-key, why would that key then become like unto himself? Well, because it would be a key missed. (Chemist—A-ha!)—London Serio-Comic-Journal.

"Is your chum a close student?" wrote a father to his son in a college. "You bet he is father," was the reply. "You couldn't borrow a V, of him if you were in the last stages of starvation."—Burlington Free Press.

When Bass was censured for jilting one girl in favor of another, he said that he had always supposed that a change of heart was something to congratulate a person upon rather than to blame him for.—Boston Transcript.

An Illinois lady is said to have collected a string of buttons 24 feet long. This accounts for so many men in the State with their suspenders attached to their pants with a shingle nail.—Elizabethtown News.

A church bell at Saratoga recently rang one hundred and four times—one stroke for each year of its existence. We imagine this to be the only instance on record where the age of a Saratoga belle has been tolled.—Youkers Statesman.

The cash value of a right hand is fixed by a New England court at $7,200. In the wild west the value of a hand depends largely on the number, kind and arrangement of the spots and the amount of money in the pot.—Detroit Journal.

Miss Lizzie Leonard, of Brooklyn, says she believes trousers are the proper garments for women to wear. The young lady but voices the belief of a great majority of the married ladies of the country—if one is to accept as true the stories told by numerous husbands.—Sunday Argus.

Japanese women never use pins. We naturally conclude that Japanese young men never startle the dreamy quiet of a half-fit parlor Sunday evening with a subdued howl as their hands go sneaking around the zodiac of their ribbon sash.—Hawkeye.

Rev. Dr. Burchard said "just before the battle" that the Democratic party was made up of "rum, Romanism and rebellion," and now comes Rev. Dr. Fulton, of New York who says he equaledly agrees with Dr. Burchard. Now, if Balaam wants to recenter Jerusalem he can drive a double team.—Memphis Scimitar.

"How was Indiana carried?" shrieks an exchange that hasn't got over the election yet. We don't know how they got the rest of the state home, but the delegate we saw at three a. m. had his legs hanging out of the back window, his hat hanging on his feet, no overcoat, and was singing "Iz ze morzing by-lie-bri light," and it took three men to hold him down. If he lacks held out, we can see no reason why there should have been any difficulty in carrying the state.—Hawkeye.

"You can come in now," said the family physician to the head of the house on the north side. "What are the returns?" "Three—two girls and one boy." "I want an official count, doctor. I don't want any 76 business in this." "Don't be foolish man." "I tell you I shall suspect fraud until there is an official canvass." Then he apologized to the doctor, saying that he had been so engrossed in politics that he had forgotten where he was.—Chicago Herald.

Who elected President Cleveland is a question that admits of several answers. The Democrats are of the opinion that they had something to do with carrying of this state, and the Blaine organs seem to be divided in opinion as to whether Cleveland's victory was due to the Independents, the Prohibitionists, the stalwarts or Mr. Burchard. The question is now, however, settled beyond any doubt. It was a black cat that secured the triumph of the Cleveland ticket.

About the beginning of the campaign a strange black cat walked into the National Democratic Headquarters in this city. She was apparently a public cat, without any lawful owner, and her arrival was hailed with immense enthusiasm. Cleveland took instantly rose in the betting market; but on Wednesday after the election the cat disappeared, and with her, of course, all certainty of Cleveland's success. On the following Friday the cat reappeared and convinced the committee that she intended to "see them through"—as the phrase runs. From that moment no further doubt as to the result remained.—New York Times.

Important to Parents and Others.
The Orphan's Home.

We have had a great improvement in the health of our children by the use of Swift's Specific. We had among the children some who were scrofula—notably one case in which it was

UNMISTAKABLY HEREDITARY.

We got some of Swift's Specific and gave it to this case, and in a short while it was cured sound and well. It was as bad a case, I think, as I ever saw, and had been under excellent physicians with no permanent relief. We have been giving it to all the children as a health tonic. We have our children and our seamstress, who, for four years have suffered, in every spring with erysipelas, and though they had been taking Swift's Specific only in small doses as a health tonic, they all, without exception passed through this spring without a touch of the complaint.

A young lady of the institution, who has been with us for years, has been troubled with a most aggravated rash ever since she was a child. She tried all the known remedies that are prescribed for it with no benefit; but she has been cured by taking Swift's Specific, and has had no return of the trouble.

It is such an excellent tonic, and keeps the blood so pure, that the system is less liable to contract disease. All of the teachers and children who are old enough to know, agree with me in believing it is the greatest medicine known. My faith in it is unbounded, and I and my assistants take great pleasure in recommending it to everyone. I can at all times be found at the Home, and will take pleasure in seeing or corresponding with any who are interested in the remedy.
